Become a Mentor to a Young Adult

College and trade school students who have mentors typically have higher grades, better networking skills and lower dropout rates because they are inspired to aim higher.

Help mentor a young adult attending college or trade school two times a month.

Develop Relationships

Because these students stand at a critical crossroads between youth and adulthood, build strong bonds grounded in mutual discovery, raw ambition and direct community impact

Navigate Transition

Your life experience helps a young adult navigate entry into post-high-school life with greater resilience and clarity.

Build Life Skills

Volunteer mentors enhance their skills in coaching, leadership and communication.
